

Winter Outfit
and Children's
of the season.

WINTER OUTFIT
and Children's
of the season.

WINTER OUTFIT
and Children's
of the season.

WINTER OUTFIT
and Children's
of the season.

WINTER OUTFIT
and Children's
of the season.

WINTER OUTFIT
and Children's
of the season.

WINTER OUTFIT
and Children's
of the season.

WINTER OUTFIT
and Children's
of the season.

WINTER OUTFIT
and Children's
of the season.

VOL. XXIV.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Four Black Plends Meet Punishment
Richly Deserved.

STAYING UP BY THEIR NECKS.

Their Bodies Riddled. Then Torn Limb from Limb and Burned.

A HORRIBLE CRIME PROMPTLY AVENGED

As soon as the Guilt of the Negroes Was Proven, a Mob of Abolitionists Settled All Questions as to Their Punishment.

Montgomery, Ala., October 13.—(Special.)—Vengeance, swift and sure, has followed the most diabolical murder which Alabama has known in years and justice has been meted out to four murderers whose crime was characterized by the most fearful details. And the punishment has been living on the gallows and the flames of the furnace, not to the piteous pleading of their victims, nor to the pleas of their attorneys, but to the burning of their bodies by the hands of a mob of abolitionists.

The story of the murders. The story of the brutal killing of Mr. Richard Johnson and his fair young daughter at their home near Belts Landing, in Monroe county, on Friday night, shocked the entire country. Mr. Johnson was a prominent and well-to-do gentleman who came to Alabama from Massachusetts and who had been living on the big plantation in Monroe county near the Wilson line with his beautiful and accomplished daughter. On Friday night, Mr. Johnson was called to his gate by four men. While one asked him a question, another hit him in the head with an ax and he was literally chopped to pieces. Signs of a bloody struggle were everywhere. After killing the father, the murderers hurried to the house and there killed the daughter—it is supposed after assaulting her. They then placed the bodies in the house and set it on fire. The cremated bodies were found the next morning.

The murderers caught. Upon the discovery search was at once instituted and the whole neighborhood joined the search. The first clue was the finding of a bloody ax at the cabin of a negro named Burrill Jones. The arrest of three other negroes followed at once, the evidence against them being circumstantial.

Finally, one of them told the story of the crime in the hope of saving himself and confessions were secured from Burrill Jones, Moses Johnson, Jim Packard and his brother. They said that their purpose was to assault the young lady and rob her father.

The negroes were placed in jail at Montgomery, but there never was any chance of them escaping the death penalty. The entire state has been greatly wrought up over the terrible crime and no jail was strong enough to prevent escape and swift punishment to follow.

New justice was meted out. As soon as the confessions were obtained and there was no possible doubt of the guilt of the four negroes, a mob was at once formed of prominent and respectable citizens who went to Monroeville. They overpowered the sheriff and took the negroes from the jail to carry them back to the scene of the crime to lynch and burn them, as they had burned Johnson and his daughter.

When taken from jail and the custody at the sheriff's, they were hurried out of town by the mob which grew in numbers as it proceeded with the fiends incarnate to the scene of the crime. The crowd however never reached there. They were too impatient for vengeance and at an out of the way place they halted, dismounted, tied ropes around the necks of the four negroes and soon they were swinging between heaven and earth. And while yet living and struggling for breath their bodies were riddled with bullets.

They were then cut down and their limbs were torn apart by the maddened mob and then placed together, placed in a log heap and burned as they had burned the bodies of their helpless victims.

The Johnson family. Mr. Johnson moved to Monroe in 1867 from Massachusetts and has made a quiet, respectable citizen and his daughter was a highly accomplished young woman, greatly loved by all who knew her. Mr. Johnson's father owned the same plantation before the war, on which the murder took place, and was an extensive planter and was a large slave owner. The son did not farm much but rented his farm to negro tenants, with whom he was always quite popular, paying them promptly in cash for their services when employed by him. Among the negroes the greatest indignation prevailed and had they been allowed to do so, they would have lynched the murderers.

Excitement at Coffeyville. Threat of Friends of the Daltons to Clean Out the Town.

Parsons, Kan., October 13.—Mayor Gregory, of this city, at 10:30 o'clock this morning, received a dispatch from Coffeyville, Kan., the scene of the last raid by the Dalton gang, stating that an attack was about to be made on the town by the remainder of the gang and asking for assistance. A large number of citizens were notified of the receipt of the Coffeyville letter and some two hundred volunteered to form a posse to relieve the people of the threatened town. Officials of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, the headquarters of which are located here, sent a letter to the mayor, advising him of the intention to disregard the summons of the committee, and giving his reasons, coupled with some disagreeable remarks about the committee.

Excitement at Coffeyville. Threat of Friends of the Daltons to Clean Out the Town.

Parsons, Kan., October 13.—Mayor Gregory, of this city, at 10:30 o'clock this morning, received a dispatch from Coffeyville, Kan., the scene of the last raid by the Dalton gang, stating that an attack was about to be made on the town by the remainder of the gang and asking for assistance. A large number of citizens were notified of the receipt of the Coffeyville letter and some two hundred volunteered to form a posse to relieve the people of the threatened town. Officials of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, the headquarters of which are located here, sent a letter to the mayor, advising him of the intention to disregard the summons of the committee, and giving his reasons, coupled with some disagreeable remarks about the committee.

previously supposed, and the police of the town would receive that alone. The posse then disbanded.

The first message received stated that it was reported at Coffeyville that friends of the dead Daltons had been gathering for several days in the Indian country south of that town, the object being to raise a sufficient force to attack the town and secure revenge for the killing of their brother and his wife. It is known that the Daltons had a numerous following in the territory among the desperadoes of that country and it is believed that they are of desperate enough character to attempt the bold undertaking. It is rumored also that they were who held up the Missouri Pacific express near Canon, while they were marching upon Coffeyville as a sort of diversion.

COLUMBIA MORROW ON THE STAND.

He Attempts to Defend Himself by Shifting the Responsibility.

Columbia, Mo., October 13.—(Special.)—There were startling and racy revelations today during the progress of the trial of Colonel J. C. Morrow, who was charged with the murder of a man and his wife. The defendant, Colonel Morrow, was put upon the stand and he produced a copy of a letter which he wrote to the governor of Missouri. The letter stated that Colonel Morrow had agreed to perform a criminal operation on her for $250 on the next Tuesday. The letter was written to the governor of Missouri and it was stated that Colonel Morrow had agreed to perform a criminal operation on her for $250 on the next Tuesday.

The defense attempted to make something of the fact that the letter was written to the governor of Missouri and it was stated that Colonel Morrow had agreed to perform a criminal operation on her for $250 on the next Tuesday. The defense attempted to make something of the fact that the letter was written to the governor of Missouri and it was stated that Colonel Morrow had agreed to perform a criminal operation on her for $250 on the next Tuesday.

Another hold up. A Missouri Train Stopped, but Little Money Secured.

Kansas City, Mo., October 13.—The Missouri Pacific train was held up and robbed between Tiro and Caney last night. Caney is the next station to Coffeyville, where a part of the Dalton gang was wiped out. The railroad authorities here think very little money was secured.

A Negro's Neck in Danger. Thomasville, Ga., October 13.—(Special.)—Tom McIntire, a negro, is wanted in Colquitt county. His offense is robbery. He was arrested on Friday afternoon and his victim is in a serious condition. The crime was committed at an isolated point, four miles from the nearest town. At the time, but later in the day was fired on by a searching party of white men. He, however, is still at large.

Allowed no depositions. Gen. Lee's Care for Private Property While in Enemy Hands.

Richmond, Va., October 10.—The Charlottesville Progress says: Mr. J. W. Rhodes, of this city, who was one of the affidavits of thirty men in this county to prove the falsity of General Field's insinuation that the confederate army was guilty of any depredation to be committed by his soldiers while in Pennsylvania. His orders were rigidly enforced, and no damage to private property was punished when ever reported.

So particular was he, said Mr. Rhodes, "that one occasion while passing through Pennsylvania, he came upon several of his soldiers, among them certain officers, who were put on the defensive and were ordered to stop. General Lee stopped and, calling a courier, sent to the owner of the cherries to ask permission before he would permit the soldiers to pick them. The lady of the house not only consented, but on hearing that General Lee had made the request went in person to the fruit grower and gave him a statement that carries the idea that General Lee's conduct in Pennsylvania was of the most honorable in the basest kind of falsehood."

THE MIX IN MINNESOTA.

Democrats and People's Party Swapping Seats.

St. Paul, Minn., October 13.—The action of the democrats and populists in several parts of the state discloses, in part, why four Weaver electors were put on the democratic national ticket. At Rochester two candidates of the legislature were nominated by the populists and the democrats. The result was a tie. The same thing was done in three other counties. In the last of the four, the democrats were elected. In the other three, the populists were elected. In the last of the four, the democrats were elected. In the other three, the populists were elected.

BEANS TO HAVE SUCCEEDED.

Chris Magee and His Barrels Have Brought Harmony in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., October 13.—(Special.)—Chris is still here, holding letters in his rooms at the Caldwell. Gossips who profess to know say that a basis of reconciliation between the warring factions has been agreed upon and they even go so far as to designate the bank through which the check was made payable. Both claimants are to come down, they say, and a new election will be held. Whether of the fusion wing is already collector of internal revenue, and means is to be "re-elected" after having been defeated in the last election. The committee is called to meet here Monday, which is the date reported for the fusion of the factions to elect a new governor. It is said that both fusion and republican candidates for congress are to come down.

AFRAID TO APPEAR.

John L. Davenport Says He Will Not Testify.

New York, October 13.—(Special.)—John L. Davenport flatly refuses to attend the meeting of the committee of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, the headquarters of which are located here, sent a letter to the mayor, advising him of the intention to disregard the summons of the committee, and giving his reasons, coupled with some disagreeable remarks about the committee.

ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 14, 1892

WILL REID COME OFF?

A Strange Rumor That Stirred Up New York.

A CONFERENCE AT OPHIR FARM

Gave Rise to the Story That White-law Would Come Off the Ticket.

DEMOCRATIC APPORTIONMENT STANDS,

Which Means That the Last Vestige of Republican Strength Is Swept Away—Political Headquarters News.

New York, October 13.—(Special.)—Will Whitelaw Reid withdraw from the republican ticket? Foolish as the question may appear, it is being asked everywhere tonight. Political circles are thoroughly stirred up over the story, which gives rise to the question and nothing else is talked about.

Jim Blaine is behind it all, so the story goes. He and Joe Manley and other republican leaders have been in conference with the vice presidential candidate today and tonight they are all up at Reid's feudal castle, Ophir Farm.

For some time the republican managers have been indulging the hope that Blaine might come to New York and make some speeches during the campaign. It has been given out that today's conference is for the purpose of arranging the details for such a visit; but from every report it can be had it seems to have been unsuccessful.

And worse than unsuccessful. For finding that there was no hope of inducing Blaine to make such a canvass of the state—which it seems he absolutely refuses to do—and believing that without Blaine's assistance there is no hope of carrying the state for the republican ticket, Mr. Reid has said flatly that he would have no more to do with it.

When he has said he would withdraw comes from what seem to be reliable sources. And that, if he said it, he believes the republican ticket has no chance for election, is certain. Of course, the state is denied in republican circles, but something is wrong. There has been a rupture, if not a quarrel among the republican bosses. It is, of course, not in the remotest degree possible that Reid will withdraw from the ticket, but he has probably made some such threat and the bosses are deeply worried. The fact that the conference was held at all is an evidence of the desperate straits in which the republicans find themselves.

Couldn't Get at Him. Whitelaw Reid stood as a barrier between Blaine and the army of reporters that sought to interview the presidential candidate. He refused to let the press get at him and his own intentions as regards the part he would take in the campaign, and upon any and every other subject which he might be induced to talk. Every newspaper man that called had a stern rebuff. He refused to let the press get at him and his own intentions as regards the part he would take in the campaign, and upon any and every other subject which he might be induced to talk.

GENERAL J. D. COX FOR CLEVELAND. He Was a Member of Grant's Cabinet and Has Always Been a Republican.

Cincinnati, O., October 13.—(Special.)—Of late Judge Jacob D. Cox has not identified himself with the republican ticket. He was a member of a republican, was a general in the late war, governor of Ohio for two terms, declined a nomination for a third term, and was elected to the senate. He is now a member of the senate.

The report gained circulation in local political circles today that Judge Cox would vote for Cleveland. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

He was interviewed at the subject. "I do not speak of political matters," said the judge, evasively, "since I am so completely absorbed in my own private life. I am not a politician and I do not wish to be so."

force in the several objections made as to the extraordinary session not being the first session of the legislature.

Second, the act is alleged to violate the constitution because based upon an enumeration of the state in that year, and it is charged that duty it would have been the duty of the legislature to perform the duty of directing an enumeration which was cast upon the constitution and each succeeding legislature up to 1892; also omitted to perform this duty and thus for several years the constitutional mandate had been violated. It is clear that such an omission ought not to prevent the passage of the duty by the next succeeding legislature. We are of the opinion that the objection made has no color of validity.

Third, it is stated that as to the senate districts it is not based upon an equal number of inhabitants, excluding persons of color, not taxed. We are of opinion that the objection is without merit. The constitution is silent upon the failure to exclude persons of color, not taxed, cannot prevail.

Fourth, it is finally objected that the act is invalid because the senate districts do not contain an equal number of inhabitants, as nearly as may be. The question of inequality of representation is an absolutely intangible proposition arising in these cases. We think that the courts have no power in constitutional matters and that the constitution entrusted to the legislature by the people the power to make such changes as may be deemed necessary in the way of a general statement of principles upon which the apportionment shall be made. The constitution is silent as to the action of the legislature be required to make such changes as may be deemed necessary in the way of a general statement of principles upon which the apportionment shall be made.

Although the fact that has been passed upon by the senate is an absolutely ideal one. As to the senate districts, which it is considered that in their makeup county today and locomotion was possible. They have made many friends here, met many old ones and, altogether, have had a trip that will be talked about by the company for years, and will mark a memorable point in its history.

The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

The boys have seen the elephant and were pleased. The crowd on the streets, which has been tremendous all the week, was gone yesterday. Captain C. S. Domec, of the National Penitentiary, of Washington, called on Lieutenant Roberts and extended a pressing invitation to be the guests of the Penitentiary one day during their stay in the way home. They will very likely accept the invitation.

DAZZLING FAME

That Has Come to the Alleged Discoverer of America.

AFTER FOUR HUNDRED YEARS SLEEP

He Wakes to Find Everybody Singing His Praises.

ALL NEW YORK TOOK PART IN IT

And the Celebration Has Indeed Been a Great One—The Part the Atlanta Boys Have Played in It.

New York, October 13.—(Special.)—After being a very choice and select corps for upwards of four hundred years, Christopher Columbus has suddenly leaped into a bewilderingly dazzling fame. A few years after discovering this continent Christopher drew the drapery of his couch about him and laid himself down to pleasant dreams. He is a dreamer yet. People who have taken no part in discovering America came over and went into business here, and soon Columbus became quite a thriving little amateur nation. She is a thriving little nation, although Columbus has departed to explore the great undiscovered country, the land beyond the sunset.

Nations are not ungrateful, and America is paying her debt of gratitude to the Genoa captain now, 400 years after his voyage is alluded to in the history of Columbus. It would be the old fellow's heart good if he could be here, for he never had such homage paid to him as is shown by this grand celebration in his honor that has been made here this week. With miles and miles of flags and bunting, military and naval pageants, bellowing cannon and newspaper display, this celebration is a notable one indeed. The newspapers are filled with nothing else in both their editorial and news columns. An enterprising Sun reporter came out in an interview with Signor Columbus in the spirit. The reporter found the signor in the moon gazing at the great display in astonishment. After some persuasion Chris was induced to come off his perch and stroll through New York. The only secular anxiety Chris evinced to the reporter was to know something of Colonel Elliott F. Shepard, whom he said St. Peter was making extra preparations to receive. He showed his dense ignorance of modern affairs by asking: "Who is this fellow Chauncey Depey?"

Everybody Saw It. New York was gaily dressed for the celebration and the programme was splendid. The street pageants were grand and were viewed all along the line by thousands of people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jammed together as thick as bees in a hive. Everybody seemed patriotic, and every carried a small flag or wore a Columbus souvenir. The spirit of patriotism was everywhere. The people were all dressed in their best, and the streets were filled with people, jam

AZMON SAYS NO.

He Denies Having Made the Statement About That Egg.

THERE MAY BE SOME FUN YET.

Mr. Coates Talks About That Paper-A Railroad Story-An Approaching Marriage-Local and Personal.

Macon, Ga., October 13.-(Special.)—The morning edition of the Constitution told of the serious charges brought against Mr. Butler, business manager of the Macon Evening News, by the Evening Telegram, in which Mr. Butler was charged with giving Mr. Tom Watson the information on which his untruthful and slanderous publications in the People's Party Paper was based.

As was stated in the report this morning, however, Mr. Butler has cleared his skirts of all blame. This afternoon's Macon News contains a dispatch from Mr. Azmon A. Murphy, dated from Perry, in which Mr. Murphy says:

"I have never said nor intimated to anyone that Mr. Butler told Mr. Watson that a certain county that representative threw an egg at Weaver. Whoever connects my name with such information falsifies me."

The end of this is not yet and as the lie has passed several times it is to be presumed that the matter will be sifted to the bottom. Mr. Butler says that he is determined to locate the author of the story which he has already denounced as false in every particular.

In an interview published in the Constitution this morning Mr. Tom Watson charges that the Macon Telegraph borrowed paper on which to print its issues from the People's Party Paper, and that the draft for $150, the amount due, was returned unpaid. Mr. John Coates, of the Macon Telegraph, told me this morning that the draft was presented during the absence of the officials in charge of the paper, and was returned only by mistake. He says that the Telegraph has always stood ready to pay any demand emanating from a legal claim and more especially from the People's Party Paper.

An Important Decision. Judge Emory Speer passed an important order Tuesday at Mr. Almy's materially affects the case of J. S. McTigue & Co., et al. vs. H. J. Lamar, J. F. Hanson, et al.

Mr. Olin Wimberly and District Attorney Marion Erwin appeared before him and urged the sale of the estate of H. J. Lamar, J. F. Hanson, et al., as sureties for J. S. McTigue & Co., et al. be postponed until after the sale of the assets of J. S. McTigue & Co., et al.

After hearing argument, Judge Speer decided that the sale should proceed and issued an order to that effect.

This will cause the sale of certain property belonging to H. J. Lamar, J. F. Hanson, et al. as sureties for McTigue & Co., et al. by the United States marshal.

Catholics Will Celebrate. Sunday next the Catholics of Macon celebrate the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of St. Francis.

The ceremony will be particularly pleasing. The services will be held at the residence of Mr. Father Breslin, S. J., of St. Stanislaus. The altar and church will be profusely decorated. Organist Weisen is preparing a special service for the services at 10:30 and at 4:30 and the choir will be largely increased for this occasion.

Dempsey-Loomis. Mr. Thomas C. Dempsey, one of Macon's most wealthy and representative citizens, was married quietly in Brooklyn, New York, on the 5th instant to Miss Lillian Loomis, of Brooklyn.

Mr. Dempsey is nearly seventy years of age and the bride has been but twenty summers.

It was reported some time ago that the marriage had actually taken place but the affair was anticipated a few weeks.

Mr. Dempsey owns considerable real estate in Macon and is also owner of considerable real estate in Ireland.

Railroad Wrecks. A broken wheel on the engine of the Southbound train on the East Tennessee Railroad last night caused considerable delay and brought the East Tennessee train to Macon over the Central.

The accident happened last night but all traffic was blocked for a long time. In fact, all trains today were transferred to the Central road.

On the Central. Another wreck occurred on the Central railroad this afternoon. The train from Savannah, which was delayed several hours. No information could be obtained up to a late hour beyond the delay is not thought that anything of a serious nature has occurred.

Local and Personal.

Invitations are out announcing the approaching marriage of Mr. Alex E. Harris and Miss Emma Ross, which will occur on the 20th of this month at Savannah. After the ceremony, which will be performed at the residence of the bride's parents on Hull street, a brilliant reception will be given at the Armory hall.

Miss Mary V. Moody, aged fifteen years, breathed her last morning at her home, No. 106 Second street, after a brief illness. She was an estimable young lady and had been a resident of Macon for four years. The remains will be shipped to Augusta.

Three of the new cars for the Consolidated Street Car Company were marked this morning by the East Tennessee road and were promptly unloaded. They will be taken to the cars at once and put in thorough order. Two more are expected tomorrow or Saturday.

The train from Atlanta this morning brought the body of Captain George W. A. Brantley to this city for interment. A number of relatives and friends met the remains at the train at 11 o'clock. Interment at Rose Hill cemetery.

Commissioner L. M. Erwin leaves this afternoon by the East Tennessee for Nashville, where he goes as a delegate to the general convention of the Christian church.

The civil service examination will occur on Saturday, and there are about sixty who will be examined. The examinations will commence at 10 o'clock and will be completed at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Clifford Anderson will return to Atlanta Saturday. Mrs. Anderson has been the recipient of many flattering attentions while in Macon.

The condition of Mr. Joannes, Macon's track left tender, shows marked improvement and hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Hon. E. L. Donnard, of Perry, is in the city today. Mr. Donnard has recently been very sick and his many friends in the city are glad to see him out again.

The Rehearsal Convention. Forsyth, Ga., October 13.-(Special.)—The fifty-fifth annual session of the Baptist Rehearsal convention, convened here this morning at 10:30 o'clock. A great many of the delegates came in this morning and others are expected this afternoon and tomorrow. There will be about seventy-five or a hundred delegates and visitors.

[The association is composed of the churches of Macon, Fort Valley, Ga., Marshallville, Monticello, Thomas, and Forsyth.

besides many country churches. Of course the association is simply an advisory body and has no authority over the various churches. The reports of the committees as to work done by the churches are very gratifying.

The familiar faces of Dr. E. W. Warren and the late Dr. J. G. Ryals are sadly missed in this meeting. Dr. Ryals only a short time ago was called home to his reward, and Dr. Warren is kept away on account of feeble health.

Dr. R. D. Mallory, pastor of the Vineville Baptist church was elected moderator of the body.

JUDGE HAMILTON M'WHORTER Lies at Death's Door at His Home in Lexington.

Lexington, Ga., October 13.-(Special.)—The many friends of Judge Hamilton Whorter, throughout the state, will learn with deep sorrow of his critical illness. Judge McWhorter has been sick with typhoid fever for some time at Indian Springs but recovered sufficiently to be carried to his home several days ago and a release set in, however, and yesterday his physicians, Drs. Willingham, of Lexington, and Hill of Washington, pronounced his condition serious and critical. They did not give up the hope that he might recover, but said that the chances were small.

Today his temperature was at a very high point, and he was delirious. His relatives and a large number of friends are at his bedside, and every attention that loving hands can give is being administered.

Tonight there is little change in the condition of Judge McWhorter, and if any it is slightly for the better.

Judge McWhorter has legions of friends in Georgia whose earnest prayers ascend that he may recover and continue to be useful to his state and his people, as well as a blessing to his family.

MRS. STEPHENS ON THE STAND.

She Tells Conflicting Stories and It Is Thought Did Not Help Wilkerson.

Roma, Ga., October 13.-(Special.)—The Wilkinson trial reached an acute stage today. Mrs. Stephens was put on the stand to testify and she told a very conflicting and unsatisfactory story and it is thought that her testimony damaged rather than helped the cause of Wilkerson.

The love letters which had passed between her and Wilkerson were read and exposed the intimacy which had so long existed between her and the young clerk. She was greatly tangled by the cross examination by J. W. Harris. She was on the stand all this afternoon and will remain all day tomorrow.

The court house was so packed today that it was impossible for any one to pass through the aisles.

AFTER AN ALLEGED MURDERER.

A Posy of Citizens After a Man for Whom $1,000 Was Offered.

Young Harris, Ga., October 13.-(Special.)—A posy of citizens of Young Harris, Ga., passed through Young Harris in pursuit of a young man named Higley, who is believed to be an Alabama murderer, and for whom a reward of $1,000 is offered.

Early in the year a railroad conductor was killed and a policeman endeavoring to arrest the murderer was also shot and instantly killed. Shortly after these murders a young man came to Cleveland but aroused no suspicion until a few days ago when a letter to his address was opened through mistake which revealed the fact that he was being pursued for the murders. He at once left Cleveland coming across the mountains. A posse at once organized and are in hot pursuit.

He Was Acquitted.

Savannah, Ga., October 13.-(Special.)—G. Turner, the city's special officer, arrested yesterday on charge of murder, was given a hearing and dismissed, there being absolutely no evidence at all against him. His arrest was a piece of spite work by those whom he has prosecuted for selling liquor on Sunday. Turner was employed by Mayor McDonough specially for this purpose. Some criminal prosecutions for malicious arrest will doubtless follow.

Rev. Thomas J. Shipman of Midway, Kentucky, has accepted a call to the Duffy street Baptist church.

Dodge County's Fair.

Eastman, Ga., October 13.-(Special.)—The Dodge county fair opened yesterday and it is the best the county has ever had. The displays of agricultural and household products are very good indeed. They are the best evidences that could be given of the industry, thrift and resources of this section of Georgia. There are also some fine hogs, cattle and horses on exhibition. In fact the whole fair does credit to the county and speaks well for the efforts of Mr. C. B. Murrell, the president, who has labored earnestly to make it a success. It will continue through this week and many visitors will avail themselves of the reduced rates given by the railroad.

North State Notes.

Raleigh, N. C., October 13.-(Special.)—Governor Holt today, in compliance with an invitation to name a special day at the world's fair next year, for any ceremonies he may prefer to have, named August 18th. In his letter he says: "I have named this day because it is the anniversary of the birthday of Virginia Dare, the first white child born in America, and for whom a white in our state is named."

The governor today commuted the death sentence of Leah Nixon, the negro woman who was convicted of murdering her husband, Perquimans county, December 24, for poisoning Mollie Nixon. Leah is found to have been duped, and her sentence is commuted to life imprisonment because she was also because she was the state's witness.

Killed by His Tenant.

Monroe, La., October 13.-(Special.)—A plantation manager on the island of Desard was shot and killed today by Will Miller, colored, one of the tenants of the plantation who had been ordered to leave the place. The murderer escaped.

Deaths in the Mine.

Shamokin, Pa., October 13.—An explosion of gas occurred in the Sterling colliery this morning, supposed to have been caused by a puff of coal breaking a miner's lamp. One man was killed, four injured, and seven others enfolded. It is believed that the latter are all dead. Up to tonight the searching party has been unable to reach the missing ones, owing to so much "black damp."

Deaths in the City.

Rosa, the infant child of Mr. Charles Chisholm, died yesterday at 318 Simpson street. The body will be buried at the Oak Hill cemetery.

Mr. R. M. Bean, aged 60 years, who was a brick layer by trade died yesterday at the family residence 105 Martin street. His remains will be carried to Westview for interment.

The remains of Miss Wilma Mowry, aged 16 years who died of typhoid fever yesterday at the residence of her family on Capitol avenue, were carried to DeGrate, Ohio, for burial.

The Champion Picker.

Palmetto, Ga., October 13.-(Special.)—Mr. Charles Jackson, the champion cotton picker, comes away with another big day's work. He picked alone in twelve hours 602 pounds of cotton. The cotton crop in this section is very short and if the pretty weather continues a little while longer it will be about all.

When Nature.

needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company.

A NIGHT OF IT.

The People of Augusta Celebrate and Jollify.

TWENTY THOUSAND PARTICIPATE

In the Great Demonstration in the Banner City of the State-The Governor's Big Reception.

Augusta, Ga., October 13.-(Special.)—The democrats of the tenth district gathered in Augusta tonight and rejoiced in their big victory in the state election and the buoyant preparation for a grand triumph in the national election. It was the greatest public demonstration of the campaign and was becoming the citadel of this famous old congressional district. The whole city turned out and there were thousands of democrats here from other counties in the district. The untimely democracy of Augusta handsomely showed her strength for Black. Fully twenty thousand people were out in the streets tonight and heard the speaking.

A Grand Torchlight Procession. At 7 o'clock, before the speaking commenced, there was a grand torchlight procession and military parade through the streets. Colonel J. C. Levy was marshal of the night. Cannons were fired and bands played, shouts of joy rent the air. The parade was a festival affair, equal to carnival times. More than a thousand torches were carried by whites and blacks. Military, civil and flambeau organizations and the fire and police department were all in line and the Black Hussars, five hundred strong, were out in full uniform and great show.

"Peck's coffin" was pulled by a double team in the procession. Each ward's democratic club was in the torchlight procession. The distinguished speakers and visitors from a distance—Governor Northen, Congressman Henry G. Turner, Congressman Leonidas Livingston, Hon. W. J. Ham, Hon. James H. Blount, Hon. W. A. Wright, Hon. Alfred Harrington and Hon. R. T. Nesbit—were in the procession and rode in handsome carriages. Governor Northen's carriage was pulled by four handsome grays and the lines were held by Captain Evans Haggie, the veteran turkman.

The banner democratic county extended a warm welcome to the several thousand major governing of Georgia. He was met at the depot upon his arrival this afternoon by delegations from the Young Men's Democratic League and was received with loud cheers and booming of cannons.

The speaking before the Arlington. The speaking took place in front of the Arlington hotel on Broad street. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Boykin Wright who introduced Governor Northen, who presided over the meeting. The crowd loudly cheered as Governor Northen marched upon the stand, looked arms with Major Black and the crowd rushed up to the governor and all who could do so heartily shook his hand and congratulated him.

Governor Northen, after being introduced, made a twenty minutes' speech. He gave glad greeting for the magnificent demonstration in honor of the great majority recently won by the democracy of Georgia. He said the democracy in Georgia was not dead; that every true patriot democrat in this state and union were proud of the governors political record won in Georgia last week. He said it was a great victory, gladly won and showed that the people were in favor of their constitutional rights and a free government—against socialism, anarchy, communism, oppression and misrule, and that the south will remain solid and will go solidly for Cleveland and tariff reform. The governor after extending congratulations to the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

At Baltimore. . . . . 040010000-5 H 8 E 4 Boston. . . . . 0010242-2 H 13 E 0 Batteries—Cobb and Gurnea; Staly, Nichols, and Gurnea. At Cincinnati. . . . . 40020101-8 H 13 E 3 Pittsburgh. . . . . 0100013-4 H 9 E 3 Batteries—Dwyer and Murphy; Elbert and Mack. At St. Louis. . . . . 0102000-5 H 8 E 8 Chicago. . . . . 0101022-2 H 10 E 3 Batteries—Breitenstein and Briggs; Hutchison and Kittredge. At Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Philadelphia. . . . . 30001100-5 H 4 E 4 Batteries—Kennedy, Fouts and Dally; Keefe and Clements.

On the night of Thursday the 20th of October the distinguished French actor, Monsieur Leon Florestan, of Paris, will give a dramatic reading at the Young Men's Christian Association, under the auspices of the Association. Monsieur Florestan will read, in costume, Iacques' "Phedre" in five acts, in French. After this he will give selections from the "Merchant of Venice," and "Hamlet," dressed as a jester and Hamlet. The press of the country speaks highly of Monsieur Florestan's ability as a dramatic reader. The Democratic League, of Paris, gave a dramatic recital at the Auditor's pavilion last Wednesday. The entertainment was a great treat to the lovers of the drama. The gentleman's ability to impersonate is wonderful and his delivery of dramatic passages from Shakespeare's masterpieces won the admiration of all his hearers.

THE STATE'S WARDS.

Georgia Has Nearly Two Thousand Convicts.

NINETY PER CENT. ARE COLORED.

Col. Jones, Principal Keeper of the Penitentiary, Submits an Interesting Report.

Colonel George H. Jones, principal keeper of the penitentiary, completed his report yesterday for Governor Northen. On October 1st there were 1,940 convicts in the penitentiary, 248 more than two years ago. Sixty-three per cent are still at large. There have been 107 deaths, many of them violent and accidental. Of the convicts 194 are male whites, 1,710 colored males, two white females, and forty-four colored female convicts.

Ninety per cent of the inmates of the penitentiary are colored. Two-fifths of them are under twenty-one years of age and, singular to say, just about one-half are church members. Something over one hundred are Methodists and over five hundred are Baptists. Thirty-seven in every hundred can read and write only four in every hundred can read but not write. Eight per cent of the convicts have served one or more times before.

Colonel Jones has handled more convicts than any previous keeper. There has been very little trouble with the prisoners and generally speaking, the inmates and bosses have cooperated with the keeper. Marked improvements have been made during the last two years in caring for the convicts. The prisoners are distributed in seventeen camps. There are four camps in Dade county at which there are 631 convicts leased to the Dade Coal Company. These are chiefly engaged in mining coal and burning coke. The Chattahoochee Brick Company has 604 convicts. James M. Smith has 233 employed on his farm and at saw mills. T. J. James has 104 working in sawmills. W. H. Maddox has all the convicts, fifty-six in number, employed on his farm in Elbert county. The whites and blacks are kept in separate apartments. In closing his report Colonel Jones compliments the assistant keeper, Colonel H. F. Wright, for his thorough and faithful work.

AN UNFORTUNATE MISTAKE.

Comptroller General Wright's Name Was Left Off the Ticket at Two Counties.

Captain Bradwell, the state school commissioner, who is just back from a visit to Tattall and Liberty counties, says that by mistake Comptroller General Wright's name was left off the democratic tickets in those two counties.

In Liberty county, Captain Bradwell discovered the mistake himself before the polls opened and had the comptroller general's name written on the tickets. In some of the precincts the mistake was not discovered until the middle of the day, and as a result General Wright runs behind the rest of the ticket.

In Tattall county it was worse, for in only one precinct was the omission discovered. At Redville, the county seat of Tattall, General Wright did not get a single vote, and he has in that county some of the warmest friends who are greatly annoyed at not having voted for him.

The omission was a mistake, because the tickets were printed by a democrat, who deeply regrets the blunder himself.

CLIMBING THE GRADE.

The Railroad Department of the Y. M. C. A. Is Growing Rapidly.

The Atlanta railroad department of the Young Men's Christian Association, making good progress toward an enlarged and all-round work among the railroad men of Atlanta.

During the last few days the resident officials of all the roads centering here have been called upon and the work was laid before them. They all agree that Atlanta is the key point in the development of this work throughout the south and were enthusiastic in expressing their desire to see the work extended and their assurance of their full endorsement of the work and their willingness to aid in its development in every way possible.

A committee of management, composed of railroad men, is soon to be formed. A canvass for members is now being inaugurated and will be pushed till a good large membership is secured.

The Sunday afternoon meeting opened in an encouraging manner last Sunday, as expected that Rev. Dr. Norcross will address the meeting next Sunday.

The opening reception was such a success that another one is expected to be held in a short time something interesting in this line will be announced. The reading room can be expected to be in the city and every one is invited to make free use of it.

HE WEARS THE STRIPES.

Albert Thomas Has Gone to the Chalmers and to Hard Work.

Albert Thomas, the notorious horse dealer and swindler, was sent to the chalmers yesterday morning.

He is now living in Donaldson's camp. His wife called upon him at the jail and Thomas wept like a baby. He told her to sell all his effects as soon as he could and get him out, but he expressly reminded her amid his sobs to preserve his trotting horse. He did not want to part with that.

There was another case against Albert Thomas and yesterday when the attorney for the plaintiff told him about it and demanded to know what he was going to do, he replied that he had a daughter dying in Nashville from rheumatism and expected to realize several thousand dollars in case of her death, and he requested the attorney to hold up the matter until he could hear some definite news.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

The Local Union Tonight Will Be Addressed by Rev. C. P. Williamson.

The Park Street Methodist church of West End will be given tonight with interested Christian Endeavorers.

The monthly union of all the young people's societies of the Christian Endeavor in the city will gather at 8 o'clock p. m. to listen to an instructive and interesting programme and enjoy the social features and good fellowship. The meeting will be addressed by Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee, Mrs. B. F. Pim, Rev. C. P. Williamson.

Dr. J. W. Lee will conduct the devotional exercises, Mrs. Pim the Bible study, and an attractive feature will be an address by Rev. C. P. Williamson on "Grit: How to Get It and What It Can Do."

The Local Union Tonight Will Be Addressed by Rev. C. P. Williamson.

The Park Street Methodist church of West End will be given tonight with interested Christian Endeavorers.

The monthly union of all the young people's societies of the Christian Endeavor in the city will gather at 8 o'clock p. m. to listen to an instructive and interesting programme and enjoy the social features and good fellowship. The meeting will be addressed by Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee, Mrs. B. F. Pim, Rev. C. P. Williamson.

Dr. J. W. Lee will conduct the devotional exercises, Mrs. Pim the Bible study, and an attractive feature will be an address by Rev. C. P. Williamson on "Grit: How to Get It and What It Can Do."

The Local Union Tonight Will Be Addressed by Rev. C. P. Williamson.

The Park Street Methodist church of West End will be given tonight with interested Christian Endeavorers.

The monthly union of all the young people's societies of the Christian Endeavor in the city will gather at 8 o'clock p. m. to listen to an instructive and interesting programme and enjoy the social features and good fellowship. The meeting will be addressed by Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee, Mrs. B. F. Pim, Rev. C. P. Williamson.

Dr. J. W. Lee will conduct the devotional exercises, Mrs. Pim the Bible study, and an attractive feature will be an address by Rev. C. P. Williamson on "Grit: How to Get It and What It Can Do."

The Local Union Tonight Will Be Addressed by Rev. C. P. Williamson.

The Park Street Methodist church of West End will be given tonight with interested Christian Endeavorers.

The monthly union of all the young people's societies of the Christian Endeavor in the city will gather at 8 o'clock p. m. to listen to an instructive and interesting programme and enjoy the social features and good fellowship. The meeting will be addressed by Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee, Mrs. B. F. Pim, Rev. C. P. Williamson.

Dr. J. W. Lee will conduct the devotional exercises, Mrs. Pim the Bible study, and an attractive feature will be an address by Rev. C. P. Williamson on "Grit: How to Get It and What It Can Do."

The Local Union Tonight Will Be Addressed by Rev. C. P. Williamson.

The Park Street Methodist church of West End will be given tonight with interested Christian Endeavorers.

The monthly union of all the young people's societies of the Christian Endeavor in the city will gather at 8 o'clock p. m. to listen to an instructive and interesting programme and enjoy the social features and good fellowship. The meeting will be addressed by Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee, Mrs. B. F. Pim, Rev. C. P. Williamson.

Dr. J. W. Lee will conduct the devotional exercises, Mrs. Pim the Bible study, and an attractive feature will be an address by Rev. C. P. Williamson on "Grit: How to Get It and What It Can Do."

The Local Union Tonight Will Be Addressed by Rev. C. P. Williamson.

MERRY ORPHANS.

They Were Treated to an Oyster Dinner Yesterday.

DR. JACOBS MAKES A SHORT TALK

He Is the Superintendent of the Thornwell Orphanage in South Carolina. Donations and Contributions.

Twelve little children are now happily housed at the small D. Imman orphanage. The grounds in front and behind the building have been appropriated by the children for the purpose of outdoor fun and pleasure.

Every morning and afternoon the scene in the front yard is animated by the merry games of the little people and the passers by who cast a look over the hedge are greeted with a pleasant sight.

Dr. William Jacobs, the superintendent of the Thornwell orphanage, at Clinton, S. C., has met with the ladies and has given them an interesting talk in regard to the management of the home.

"I am delighted with your magnificent building," said he, "and I cannot speak too eloquently of the liberal heart and mind that prompted such a noble gift."

He then proceeded to state that the Imman orphanage had started under far more favorable circumstances than the orphanage of which he was the superintendent. When the latter was organized about fifteen years ago their means were scanty and their only abundance was in the hearty desire to relieve their children from the orphanage of which he was the superintendent.

"We undertook," said he, "to provide for a dozen or more children in the beginning of the work, without the aid of a next meal was to come from God smiled, however, upon the labor of our hands and from an humble beginning our enterprise has grown into a grand and beautiful charity that has been a blessing to hundreds of children in South Carolina."

"The orphanage, however, was modeled after a different plan from that of the Jennie D. Imman. Several cottages in addition to the main building were included in the orphanage and these were occupied by the children. They were comfortably fitted up and were scattered about over the grounds. They were provided with a charming atmosphere of home life and were cozy little cottages."

"The parents or guardians of the children were not required to subscribe to a written agreement, relinquishing their children for a specified time to the orphanage. It was optional to a certain extent with the parents and they usually allowed the children to remain in the home as long as the directors saw fit to keep them, and they were only happy to have them under their control."

"The little town of Clinton was a small and quiet settlement, and the climate and the prospects the more southern, bringing out the color into the cheeks of the little people and feeding their spirits with the pure and uplifting influences of semi-rural life."

"It is no objection to the Jennie D. Imman orphanage that it is situated in a large city like Atlanta. The hills are high and the breezes that play about their summits are healthy and exhilarating. It is moreover situated in the midst of a patronage from which it can derive an ample support without appealing to the benevolence of the people from a distance, who live beyond the radius of its beneficence."

The doctor described minutely the interior organization and discipline of the home and the methods of the directors in their board of directors in the general management and conduct of the orphanage.

The doctor described minutely the interior organization and discipline of the home and the methods of the directors in their board of directors in the general management and conduct of the orphanage.

Dr. Jacobs left for South Carolina by the early afternoon train.

Oysters for Dinner.

The little inmates of the home were yesterday treated to an oyster dinner. It was the gift of Mr. Day and each one of the children was given a delightful bowl of soup.

Their faces presented a beautiful sight as they gathered about the little tables that were spread before them in the dining room.

The generosity of the act was fully recompensed by the hearty enjoyment which it kindled in the hearts of the little family.

Donations and Contributions.

Several contributions were received yesterday and the acknowledgment of the board of directors is made to the following parties: Jessie Rankin, $10; Clarence Knowles, $10; R. L. Palmer, $5; a friend, $1; Brewster & Howell, $10; Cuyler Smith, $5; Mrs. Minnie Hillier Gowan, $5; A. Rosenfield, $1; Lumpkin & Stewart, $1; W. C. Crankshaw, $2; J. C. & I. Daniel, $2; Simon & Franklin, $2; Dr. Smith, $5; G. J. Dallas, $5; L. E. Polson, $10; Beck Hardware Company, carving knife and fork; Mrs. White, two comforts and sheet; Mrs. John Berry, one comfort, one blanket and clothing; Emory Market, fish once a week for a year; G. W. Adair, $10; J. M. Green, $25; St. Julien Raynal, $5; S. F. Richards & Son, large, handsome Bible; Mr. Mueller, goods to amount of $5; J. A. Anderson, clothing to amount of $5; J. Regenstein, $5; R. C. Black, $5; Atlanta Fruit and Supply Company, one box of oranges; Brown & King Supply Company, $10; Dr. Orenshaw, $10 and dental services for an indefinite period; B. A. Carlton, two comforts; Mr. Day, oysters; T. A. Winslow, of American Notion Company, three comforts; H. L. Culbertson, $1; W. S. Thompson, $5; C. J. Daniel, $5; H. C. McMillen, 50 cents; W. W. White, $10; Clarke Hardware Company, $10; McKeldin & Co., $5 in shoes; G. V. Gress $25.

New Sub-Committee.

The subcommittee in charge of the orphanage for the present is as follows: Mrs. E. A. Weaver, Mrs. W. W. Draper, acting for Mrs. W. A. Moore, and Mrs. Captain Simpson, acting for Mrs. John A. Bowles.

Mrs. W. H. Tuller, the chairman of the board, will leave for the north today or tomorrow and Mrs. W. A. Moore, during her absence, will act as chairman and preside over the meetings.

M. Simpson, of Assistant Traffic Manager Culp's force, is one of the brightest among the younger rate men.

"Whetting" in children is soon cured by the famous Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

Persons who have not already registered for this year's election can have an opportunity of doing so now. Books close Oct. 22d. A. P. Stewart, Registrar.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

Persons who have not already registered for this year's election can have an opportunity of doing so now. Books close Oct. 22d. A. P. Stewart, Registrar.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

Persons who have not already registered for this year's election can have an opportunity of doing so now. Books close Oct. 22d. A. P. Stewart, Registrar.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

Persons who have not already registered for this year's election can have an opportunity of doing so now. Books close Oct. 22d. A. P. Stewart, Registrar.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

Persons who have not already registered for this year's election can have an opportunity of doing so now. Books close Oct. 22d. A. P. Stewart, Registrar.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

Persons who have not already registered for this year's election can have an opportunity of doing so now. Books close Oct. 22d. A. P. Stewart, Registrar.

A PLEASANT CALL

Upon the Family of Senator Colquitt at Edgewood.

AN ANALYSIS OF LAUGHTER

Listened to by an Intelligent and Highly Cultured Audience, the Senator's Improvement.

A charming audience it was that gathered in the hospitable mansion of Senator Colquitt last night.

And right royally was it entertained by the senator and his elegant family.

The prostration under which Senator Colquitt has labored since last July, while slowly passing away, has, nevertheless, kept him at home, with only an occasional visit to the home of a neighbor. With returning strength Senator Colquitt's desire for society and habit has increased. It chafed him greatly to miss the current discussions going on, and he longed for a return to active arena.

A day or two since it was decided that the time had come when this desire should be partially gratified. Ber. Mr. Clifton, whose remarkable lecture on laughter is so widely known throughout the state, kindly volunteered to repeat it in the parlors of the mansion, with the senator and his neighbors as auditors.

At 7 o'clock the neighbors began to drop in in friendly fashion. It was an audience of Edgewood's beauty and chivalry. Prominent among them were Mr. and Mrs. Snook, Colonel and Mrs. John S. Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. Sherrick, H. H. Hargraves, Mr. Hightower, Major Warren, Rev. J. T. Gibson and numerous others. They were all gratified to find the marked improvement in Senator Colquitt's condition and congratulated him warmly.

The lecture by Mr. Clifton cannot be transformed in type. He analyzed laughter, giving the causes thereof, and for an hour moving the audience to smiles or tears as he touched the humorous or sympathetic chords. It was a lecture which has to be heard to be appreciated, and which everybody ought to hear in order that they might appreciate it.

Colonel John S. Canfield expressed the thanks of the guests both to Senator Colquitt and to the lecturer for the pleasure of the evening.

Refreshments were then served, and after an hour of social intercourse, the guests quitted their seats and listened to a humorous rendition of an old war song by Rev. J. T. Gibson.

It was at a late hour that the assemblage regrettably dispersed, with pleasant memories of Senator Colquitt and his charming wife and daughters.

CAN SEE THE CHILD.

An Order Is Issued by Judge Calhoun to Mrs. W. C. Hammond.

Mrs. Hammond can now see her child. When a divorce was granted Mr. W. C. Hammond, the mother obtained possession of her son, Waldo, Terrell Hammond.

Last July Mrs. Hammond was ordered to deliver the child to her father, but she refused to do so. The court then ordered her to deliver the child to her father, but she refused to do so. The court then ordered her to deliver the child to her father, but she refused to do so.

The following is the order of the court: "It is ordered that the petitioner Mrs. M. J. Hammond have the right to visit and take her child, Waldo Terrell Hammond, once every two weeks after the date of this order, upon such days and at such places in the city of Atlanta as shall be designated by the ordinary of Fulton county."

W. C. Hammond, said visits to be at any and all times between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., except on Sunday, and that the visitation be suspended during the absence of said Waldo from Fulton county, which absence so as to effect said right of visitation to be suspended during the absence of said Waldo from Fulton county, which absence so as to effect said right of visitation to be suspended during the absence of said Waldo from Fulton county.

Death of an Interesting Young Lady.

The only daughter of Dr. David Moury and his wife, Mrs. Sarah Moury, died at the family residence near Clark University yesterday evening at 5 o'clock, after an illness of thirty-five days. The fatal disease was typhoid fever, and though the best medical skill of Atlanta was called to her aid, she died.

Wagona Moury, the only child of her parents was born in Indiana about sixteen years of age when stricken down. From the first she was a lovely and lovely child, and was the favorite of many hearts. Three years, from 1881 to 1884, she spent at Clark University, where she was connected with the faculty of Central Tennessee college and Medical College. Even at this early age she was a general favorite and is still remembered by a host of friends.

In 1888 Dr. Moury came to Atlanta and commenced the practice of medicine, in which he has been very active for seven years. During these years she has been the light of the household, and has won the esteem of all who knew her. About two years ago, she was stricken down by a severe attack of typhoid fever, and she has been in a religious awakening the same under deep religious impressions and united with the church. From that day onward she lived a faithful Christian life. She bore her sickness with patience and fortitude, and she was a devoted mother and a devoted daughter.

She was a devoted mother and a devoted daughter. She was a devoted mother and a devoted daughter. She was a devoted mother and a devoted daughter. She was a devoted mother and a devoted daughter.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

The following memorial was held in the chapel of Clark university yesterday at 10 a. m., conducted by the professors of the university and of Georgia Theological seminary in the presence of a large concourse of friends. The body was then carried by the East Tennessee train, at 1:30 p. m., on their way to DeGraffe, Ohio, the old family home for interment.

SHOE FACTS

EXCLUSIVE AND LATEST STYLES.

High Grade Shoes

AT MODERATE COST

You are losing a valuable opportunity if you do not make special effort to buy Shoes of

R. C. BLACK,

35 Whitehall Street.

DO CLOTHES MAKE THE MAN?

Well, they may not actually make the man, but they do make the man look more civilized.

What will make a man look more dressty than one of our Clay Worsteds cutaways at $20, $22.50, $25, and $27.50? They are made in "Regular," "Long and Slims," to fit the man who like King Saul towers head and shoulders above all in Israel, and in "Stouts" to fit the short "fullbosomed" man. The long and short of it is we have everything heart could desire or good taste suggest, in the clothing line. To look is to buy.

Lumpkin, Cole & Stewart CLOTHIERS.

No. 26 WHITEHALL ST.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

SOUTH BROAD, Daily, Sunday, and Holiday.

